Skulpturi.dk is pleased to welcome you to the exhibition BALLROOM. For this, our fifth exhibition, we have looked beyond the Danish borders and invited Stefan Wissel, Charlotte Thrane and Hans Hemmert.

When looking separately at the works of these three artists, themes such as absurdity, recognition and unpretentious humour appear in each of their practises. However, when the works are juxtaposed, three very different strategies for working with figurative elements are seen.

These dynamics between something shared and something individual, comprise an exhibition where the works form constellations rather than being isolated statements.

Hans Hemmert shows two sculptural videos. In one of these he works with the absurd living sculpture and in the other one the meeting between music and aggression. Hans Hemmert is part of the artist group Inges Idee which has been commissioned for a large sculpture in front of DR Byen, The National Danish Radio and Television Centre. This is Hans Hemmert's first exhibition in Denmark.

Charlotte Thrane who has only exhibited in Denmark once before (as part of the exhibition Etc in 2007) shows three works from the last couple of years and one brand new work. Her work is montage-like in its form and revolves around the juxtaposition and short-circuiting of recognizable references.

Stefan Wissel whose work is also shown in Denmark for the first time, contributes three brand new works. Wissel's sculptures are subtle objects with references to everyday things and experiences. Wissel works with the dynamics of a very minimalistic but at the same time very direct humour.

We are looking forward to introducing the Danish Art audience to these three outstanding and peculiar artists.
